Recruiting Neighbors to Help Neighbors: Assisted Rides

West Marin Senior Services is Expanding its Driver Pool

The next time you head over the hill for an errand – to shop – or have an appointment, consider bringing an elder with you! It is easy to sign up with WMSS as a Driver – and most importantly, there is no obligation to say yes when we call on you!!!! It is the goodness of your heart, your kindness which says YES. Not only are you doing "a good deed," you will also have a companion to talk with and may make a new friend.

Four reasons to participate Neighbors Helping Neighbors – Assisted Rides: First, to help elders unable to drive themselves over the hill; Second, to reduce the environmental footprint; Third, to Pay It Forward – anticipating when you may need assistance; and Fourth, because it feels good! In addition, we reimburse you $0.35 cents per mile.

Here's how it works: We send you an application and get approved. You can then drive a neighbor or friend – and/or we add you to our Available Driver list to contact you when needed. Remember there is no obligation to say yes if you are busy or unable or just don't feel like it that day.

Contact Mark Solomons @ 415.663.8148 x 103 or via email at mark@wmss.org. Stop by the Volunteer Center @ 11431 State Highway #1, #20. We will answer questions and sign you up.

A Muse Unsung: Cosmetic Arts

Cleopatra Nefertiti
Applied their kohl and rouge
Highlighting eyes with blue and green
Powdering cheeks with red dust
Staining them with berry dyes
Transforming their features into masks of beauty.

No wall, no canvas
But live faces their medium
Transfigured into live sculptures
Faces framed with glamorous earrings
Necks set off with precious stones
Their antelope eyes looking into eternity.

What lay behind the masked reality
Is a well kept secret
This goddess still mystifies
Still inspires with her burden of beauty.

Like a fragile flower arrangement
The Geisha will apply
That phantom white foundation
Then break out with rosebud lips
To satisfy man's fantasy.

And our city girl
Coiffured late noon
Will likewise beckon the muse of Narcissus
To endow her with the skills of Cleopatra
And the sure touch of Nefertiti
Pleads with her fairy Godmother
To make her skin soft and smooth and pure
To cast her mask with a magnetic spell
That will last past midnight.

Spirit of Tom

When I first moved to Bolinas
The first person I met was Tom
He rode up to our house
On White Cloud

Hoping his spirit will carry on
A tradition and Legacy
He created so much
And gave so much love to this place

The Ilka Hartmann Archive

I've been working with Ilka to digitize, retouch and archive her pictures. I'm amazed at the breadth of her work over the years, covering many of the most significant regional social movements from the second half of the twentieth century; United Farm Workers, the Black Panthers, the Indian Occupation of Alcatraz, the American Indian Movement, anti-war demonstrations, anti-nuclear demonstrations and LGBT equality. Her photography of Bolinas over the same period is a treasure of local history and documents the people and spirit that make this community so special.

Ilka does not have the resources to archive her work herself. Several institutions are interested in acquiring her archive, like the Bancroft Library at UC Berkeley and I've accompanied Ilka to Stanford where an enthusiastic group reviewed a small cross section of her work. They were primarily interested in several social movements and key people within them. They have a budget to digitize, physically archive and pay Ilka for her life's work and it appears as though this is the best option under the current circumstances. That said, Stanford is less interested in Ilka's work regarding Bolinas history and more aesthetically oriented photographs. It is important to create a comprehensive digital archive of her work that might be peripheral to institutional collecting but is of central importance to smaller groups, like our Bolinas community.

Several ideas in the works are a retrospective monograph, publications about particular subjects, a new website and a collection of Bolinas prints that may be archived locally at the Bolinas Museum.

Ilka and I have been meeting with Linda Samuels to begin this process and we are looking for people to help. Specifically, we are looking for a physical space to work out of for approximately 6-9 months, an underwriter or grant so we can dedicate the time necessary and volunteers to help with moving, scanning, data input, etc.

If you are interested in any way, please get in touch with me at perryshimon@gmail.com or 212.729.6664

I believe we all benefit, especially here in Bolinas, from Ilka's lifelong documentation of alternative and social justice movements and I look forward to collaborating with you to preserve and celebrate her life's work and it's enduring meaning.

Thank you,

Perry Shimon

READING TO JOHN

On Tues. 7/27 at 10 am on KWMR (89.9) I'll read Molly Giles' "Celtic Studies" from her brand-new, delicious collection of short stories. Will Meg meet Him in Ireland, a land where men actually like women? Dismal track record so far for her, but she does fall in love with a country. I'll end with reviews.

--Neshama Franklin

Also note I'll be away for both August shows but Jane Mickelson, subbing, will do a wonderful job, I know.

Hello!

I am Patricia, traveler from Slovakia, and I have a pleasure of staying in beautiful Bolinas.

A poem found its way out as I was walking through the forest of eucalyptus up the mesa rd.

I would happily contribute it to the hearsay news if you guys like it. Here it goes :) -

Those moments. Short and eternal.
When I expand my sight and see
the trees dancing in the wind,
flickering light beating off the leaves.
Patterns of existence
painted magnificence
on the canvas of life.
Vibrant movement
Silent glory
Those are the images that never fade.
And when, often, I cannot see
what's right in front of me,
I turn them into a prayer.
For I seek nothing
but that which is
~ I was told, and seldom I've felt that it's infinite.

Thank you
Patricia Kucmanova

WILDFIRE HAZARD NOTICEII

Marin County Fire Department Defensible Space Inspectors will be in Bolinas on July 29th to evaluate properties.

All property owners received the Wildfire Hazard Notice, also known as the "Green Card", from the Marin County Fire Department, the agency responsible for ensuring that all properties meet the State requirements for Defensible Space. California Public Resource Code Section 4291 requires 100' (or to your property line) of Defensible Space to help protect homes in the event of a wildfire.

Hopefully, due to the efforts of the Bolinas fire department in recent months, you are aware that we are rapidly approaching Wildland fire season. With your help and the help of the Marin County Fire Department, our community will be safer from the inevitable wildfire.

If you have questions or need further information, please contact Marin County Fire Department at 415-473-2207 or Bolinas Fire Department at 415-868-1566.

SACRAMENTO

Initiative to repeal vaccine law advances

The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO » California's secretary of state says the proponents of a ballot measure to repeal the state's new mandatory vaccination law can begin collecting signatures for their effort.

Secretary of State Alex Padilla cleared the initiative for signature-gathering Tuesday.

Former state Assemblyman Tim Donnelly submitted the initiative after Gov. Jerry Brown last month signed the bill striking California's personal belief exemption for school immunizations.

It followed weeks of heated testimony and massive rallies by opponents at the state Capitol.

The initiative pairs the conservative former Republican candidate for governor with the critics of vaccination, many of whom come from liberal pockets of resistance throughout the state.

Proponents will need to collect nearly 366,000 signatures for the initiative to appear on the 2016 ballot. The law also takes effect that year.

KNOW YOUR BO

In 1916, Charles Lauff wrote that Dogtown "got its name from vagrant dogs used in hunting deer and bear." By the late 1860's, laurel and oak were the main outputs. It had everything a man could wish for — six houses, a saloon, grocery and department stores, wagon shop, blacksmith – everything except a selection of marriage-able females. Two store owners agreed the name had driven off the girls. In 1868 they suggested "sausage be made of every hound in sight." At a town meeting the name was changed to Woodville.
