This year's Art & Garden "For the Birds" is chirping with energy and ideas, and we are always looking for more. Both ideas, if you have something you think would fit in with this year's theme, we'd love to hear about it, and actual things. We'd like to have a small duck pond, if you have a small pond we could borrow or have, give us a call.

We also do a silent auction each year, mostly services and certificates as the hall is filled with plants, rather than things to sell, but we are flexible. And ARTISTS we still have free canvas panels 8x10 inches, for you to paint, bird themes appreciated, and donate to the lovely show we have each year. Give your fans an opportunity to bid on your art work, and support the Heart of the Community.

There is a planning meeting Thursday, April 3 at 5 pm in the BCC office, it's very relaxed (you can come late) and very fun, ideas and laughter abound. Call 868-2128 for more information about any of this.

- Kathleen O'Neill

- a deft, childish conceit -
 When Jackfrost dashes so nimbly across the chilled
 glass panes... Flairing
 elegant bluish white fangs
 in his ^{carefree} Wake - Sometimes he misses an opportunity...
 We would gladly partake - doing our own pirouettes and angel wings upon frostrimed
 earth, grazing outcroppings
 of hoar and crystalline
 needles of prismatic brilliance
 And why not dance with that Jack of Frost on a still, cold
 awakening dawn - before they arise
 + wipe the sleep from their eyes?

Today (Friday, March 30, 2012) is the last day of work at the Bolinas Post Office for Michelle Mosely, pictured here behind the desk at 94924 in her USPS sweatshirt, frozen in time while observing postal consumers Terry Bell and Nanette Rafferty going about their urgent postal business. Michelle has worked cheerfully at the Post Office for four or five years, commuting each day all the way from Vallejo, and has many stories that she could tell, but probably won't tell us. We will all miss her.

COMMUNITY NIGHT

Community Night will be happening every Tuesday evening from 6pm on at the BCC. This is a start for a whole new Tuesday night in Bo! We will be showing movies, setting-up jam sessions and what ever else the people of our town would like to have happen on Tuesdays, free admission. If there is something you would like to see or you have ideas you want to bring forth call me -2128, email me lia@bocenter.org or come see me in the BCC office.

Every 1st Tuesday of the month will be: Art Genre Movie Night which will generally be a surprise movie (until further notice), but something geared for the adults in town. First one coming up next Tuesday April 3rd at 7pm!

We are still working on getting the Jam Session / Open Mic going for the 2nd or 3rd Tuesday of the month... start date to be determined. In the meantime we will keep playing a variety of movies.

Every last Tuesday of the month is set up for Game Night which includes:

- DJ Omatic spinning tunes
- Ping Pong & other games
- Bring your fav game & friends and come hang out by the fire
- If you fancy having dinner: plan ahead & pre-order from Pirate Pizza to enjoy your hot pie when you arrive. (415) 328-1066

See you on Tuesday Nights,

Lia Sabbatini

It's your friendly reminder to get prepared for the BIG ONE!

There I was peacefully sleeping in my cozy bed when I was jolted awake by a quick, but surprisingly loud, earthquake. As is my usual response to an earthquake, I jumped up, screamed "Earthquake" and started to run towards the kids room with the idea of grabbing them and getting under a door jamb somewhere in the house. All this happened within second's as my brain was whirring faster than my body. The earth thankfully stopped moving and my next task was to check the USGS website to see if it was The Big One somewhere else. Phew, not this time! I then logged onto my Facebook account and of course there was a ton of frenetic activity on that site as well. Seems like everyone posted that they felt the quake and gee how scary it was. The posts about not being prepared for The Big One (or the small one even) echo my sentiments exactly. I am definitely NOT prepared. I think I have some really old cans of beans lying around and maybe a can or two of tomato sauce. Don't think that's gonna help me all that much (unless I want to make some kind of bean and tomato dip after my house gets demolished. You never know when you need a good bean and tomato dip).

So, this got me to thinking. Maybe we need to start getting prepared. I know, what a novel and unique concept! With that in mind, I contacted the good folks at the Bolinas Fire Department and the Bolinas Disaster Council, and asked what could be done to get individual families in better shape for what very likely MAY happen in our backyard some day. Anita Tyrrell, the fabulous fire chief in Bolinas, gave me some links to websites that sell emergency supplies and kits and contain preparedness information. As well, the Bolinas Fire Department has disaster preparedness manuals available to anyone who would like one and is always willing to discuss what can be done to get yourself ready for an emergency out here in the bucolic, but cut off from the rest of the world, coast. Their phone number is 868-1566 and you can feel free to check in with them any time you want.

Maybe we can find someone locally to provide kits for those of us that are not able to order online or get over the hill that easily, but in the meantime check out the following websites for more information on preparedness and how to purchase emergency supplies and kits (it may not be possible to get someone to sell them locally so get your kits now, before it ends up being too late). It will make those 5:30 AM leaps out of bed that much better. If we are hit with the Biggiee, you'll know what to do and have the stuff needed to make it through as safely as possible.

Stinson/Bolinas Community Fund Grant Application Deadline Coming Soon (sorta)!

Hey there Bolinas and Stinson Beach Peoples:

The Stinson/Bolinas Community Fund will be accepting applications for it's upcoming grant cycle until Monday, April 30th.

The fund was created about 15 years ago to help support local projects that benefit the Bolinas and Stinson Beach communities. We have funded a multitude of projects over the years. The list below is for the projects that were funded during our last grant cycle in October 2011. As you can see, these projects bring good things to our communities that make life out here so interesting and fun! Thank you to everyone who has put in the time and energy to create such fantastic things for our little towns.

If you have an idea brewing, or a fully fleshed out project, and need a little capital to make it happen, please check out our website at sbefgrants.org for more information about the fund and to download an application form. You can also get an application at the Bolinas or Stinson Beach Libraries, or by calling me at 868-2043.

As well, if you have any questions or need additional information about the process of submitting an application to the Stinson/Bolinas Community Fund, please feel free to call or email me. My email is belle_wood@att.net and my phone number is 868-2043.

Sincerely,

Belle Wood
Grants Consultant
Stinson/Bolinas Community Fund

*Integrative Law: A Healing
Approach for Resolving Divorce and Other Conflicts*

A divorce is the fate of about half of all marriages, and is the reason most Americans will encounter the legal system. In addition to the inherent stresses of divorce, many families experience serious and avoidable collateral damage as a consequence of handling complex and personal family systems breakdown in a court system designed to resolve automobile accidents and breaches of contract. Pauline joins Michael Lerner to explain Collaborative Law and other dramatic transformations taking place in the legal profession.

Pauline H. Tesler is director of Commonweal's new Integrative Law Institute and author of the critically acclaimed practice manual for lawyers, Collaborative Law: Achieving Effective Resolution in Divorce Without Litigation and Collaborative Divorce: The Revolutionary New Way to Restructure Your Family, Resolve Legal Issues, and Move On With Your Life.

Protect Yourself Women's Self-Defense Workshop

My friends and I are putting together a women's self defense workshop. The 2 main teachers are men who I have known for years and have done martial arts training with. They have been teaching women's self defense classes all around the Bay Area and are well versed in the down and dirty survival techniques that we all need to know as independent women moving around in the world.

The class will focus on situational awareness, self-confidence and personal safety. You will be taught basic survival techniques and will have the opportunity to defend yourself with all the strength and savvy that you have at your disposal against a padded attacker. There will be time and space allowed for debriefing and whatever comes up.

This class is available for all women young (12ish) to as old as you want. Wear comfortable, flexible clothing and bring some kind of snacks and lunch.

We would like to put together at least 10 women who can afford to pay $75 for the day (so that we can guarantee the Community Center rent, as well as money for the trainers) and then open up the rest of the group for scholarship or sliding scale registration. Having raised kids in Bolinas and having needed self-defense myself, I believe that it is essential education for all women to possess because the odds are good that they will need it. So, if you, your sister, your daughter, your wife or significant other would like to explore this territory, come on down.

We need at least 10 committed and paying women to make this fly.

WHERE: COMMUNITY CENTER in BOLINAS

WHEN: APRIL 15, 2012

TIME: 11:30am-6:00 pm

COST: $75 or sliding scale

RAUL MIDÓN

Saturday, March 31, 8 PM

Tickets: $24, $22 seniors, $12 teens

Search for "Raul Midón" on YouTube, and you'll find a clip of the New York-based vocalist, guitarist, and songwriter appearing on "The Late Show with David Letterman" in 2006. Performing "State of Mind," the title track from his 2005 debut album, Midón unleashes a silky, soulful tenor and dazzling percussive guitar style—a syncopated flamenco- and jazz-infused approach in which bass, harmony, and melodic lines emanate from the fretboard in one slap-happy storm. If that weren't enough, Midón busts out his improvisational mouth horn technique, in which he creates a bebop "trumpet" solo entirely with his lips, earning himself a spontaneous burst of mid-song applause from the audience in the process. It's a virtuosic performance, and one that reveals what has made Midón such an exciting artist to watch over the past few years. "One of those rare musical forces that reminds how strong and deep the connection between man and music can sometimes be." —Guitar Player

UPCOMING CLARINETING

My trio with pianist Si Perkoff will be playing at The Seahorse in Sausalito next Thursday, April 5, 7-10 p.m. Blake Richardson on bass.

The Seahorse is an interesting place. It's a softly lit, cavernous hall located on Harbor Drive, at a site that has a colorful Sausalito history. Long ago it was the site of the infamous hippy hangout The Sausalito Food Company, then it was Saylor's Landing, and now The Seahorse --which, on weekends, is a lively dancing venue.

Other clarinetting: at the Coast Cafe here in Bolinas, the duo with guitarist Bart Hopkin--usually playing the first Thursday of every month --will be playing the second Thursday the next two months, i.e. April 12 and May 10.
