YES THERE IS SOMETHING YOU CAN DO TO HELP !

THANK YOU to all who have donated to Al Otro Lado, the legal team working at the border to help migrants coming from Central America.

We are still offering tickets in the RAFFLE for a painting by Judy Molyneux.

Be sure to see the two paintings on display at the Bolinas Library in the Children's Section. They are so beautiful ! The winner will choose one of these.

In fact, by buying a ticket you are already a winner ! You win the great satisfaction of stepping up to make a difference in the lives of people who have risked so much to escape terrifying violence in their home countries.

If you are interested in learning more about these courageous migrants and the history of the wars in Central America check out Solito Solita, by Stephen Mayers (editor) and Jonathan Freedman (editor)

Exerpt from the book review : "FIFTEEN narrators describe why they fled their homes, what happened on their dangerous journeys through Mexico, how they crossed the borders, and for some, their ongoing struggles to survive in the United States. In an era of fear, xenophobia, and outright lies, these stories amplify the compelling voices of migrant youth. What can they teach us about abuse and abandonment, bravery and resilience, hypocrisy and hope? They bring us into their hearts and onto streets filled with the lure of freedom and fraught with violence. From fending off kidnappers with knives and being locked in freezing holding cells to tearful reunions with parents.

This collection includes the story of Adrian, from Guatemala City, whose mother was shot to death before his eyes. He refused to join a gang, rode across Mexico atop cargo trains, crossed the US border as a minor, and was handcuffed and thrown into ICE detention on his eighteenth birthday. We hear the story of Rosa, a Salvadoran mother fighting to save her life as well as her daughter's after death squads threatened her family. Together they trekked through the jungles on the border between Guatemala and Mexico, where masked men assaulted them. We also meet Gabriel, who after surviving sexual abuse starting at the age of eight fled to the United States, and through study, legal support and work, is now attending UC Berkeley"

Pick up your map/passport 4/6 at any one of these participating local businesses, all located conveniently on Wharf Rd:

La Sirena + Amanda Ross Skincare
Eleven + Smiley's + Janis Yerington

Bring your fully-stamped passport to La Sirena for FREE ENTRY into a drawing to win LOCAL GOODIES!

RAFFLE TICKETS are $10 each or 3 for $25 and 6 for $50.

Send check made out to Al Otro Lado

(non profit so tax credit available) to POBoX 871, Bolinas, Ca. 94924. Your tickets will be filled in and put into the drawing. Be sure to include your phone # in case you win and are not present at the drawing.

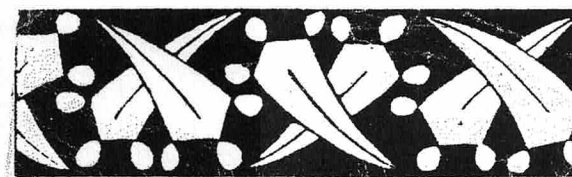

You may also see me downtown and buy a RAFFLE TICKET directly or call me & we can arrange to meet. 415 302 8419.

We are planning to have the drawing next weekend. Time & Location TBA

Thanks to Richard Pfeffer, For going the extra mile to retrieve my new DVD player from where it should not have been and finding me to give where it should have been. I go home to listen to rain and watch a movie that I order from our great Library. Godbless.

Bolinas Reads: Linda Samuels 3/27/19

Linda Samuels, a 40 year Bolinas resident has worn several hats in the Bolinas community, all fashioned to keep her at home: dish washer at Bolinas Stinson School, Bolinas Stinson Librarian, Executive Director of the Bolinas Museum and most recently, roving woman about town/free box aficionado. Her last job was her favorite. She commuted 4 days a week to the Headlands Center for the Arts where she was the Program Director. She is also the Trustee/ Director of the Kenneth J. Botto Photography Trust.

What are you reading now? What's in your pile of books? Do you read one book at a time or several?

I read constantly and almost always contemporary fiction. Right now in my pile are: Educated: A Memoir by Tara Westover; The Tattooist of Auschwitz by Heather Morris; Welcome Home by Lucia Berlin; Unquiet by Linn Ullmann; Bookends: Collected Intros and Outros, by Michael Chabon and Conversations with Friends by Sally Rooney. Seeing this list, I realize that only half of them are fiction!

Are you a browser in the library or do you know in advance what you are looking for? Do you use the library catalog to pick specific books? How do you find what you want to read?

In the library, I love to browse the new books, the 7 day books and 3 day movies. I mostly read books that come from reviews that grab my interest in the New York Times and New Yorker. I then order them through the library catalog or spot them on the above mentioned shelves. I often order three times the amount that I can actually read. I get nervous if I'm not surrounded by many many books!

Do you like to read paper or ebooks? Audio books?

I prefer to read on paper, beginning each morning with two newspapers and three crosswords. I have only one paper magazine subscription left, The New Yorker. Paper for the usual reasons: like to touch it, hold it, and wander easily back and forth.

Do you have a favorite genre or any genres that you never read?

Lately, I've been drawn to fiction based on real stories. The two I enjoyed most were The Dakota Winters by Tom Barbash, based on John Lennon's last days on earth and The Museum of Modern Love by Heather Rose as mentioned below. Another book that I liked in this category was The Paris Wife by Paula McLain, about the Ernest Hemingway and his first wife Hadley.

What's the last great book that you read and recommended to a friend?

My last favorite book by far was The Museum of Modern Love by Heather Rose. Set around Marina Abramovic's 2010 75 day- long performance piece at the NY Museum of Modern Art, Rose peoples her story with characters that are living examples of the power of art to change lives. I've also recently loved and recommended The Mars Room by Rachel Kushner; Warlight by Michael Ondaatje; My Year of Rest and Relaxation by Ottessa Moshfegh; and Asymmetry by Lisa Halliday.

What was your reading experience like as a child? Did you grow up with a lot of books? Did you have a favorite?

As a child I read everything I could. My mother would take me to the Roslyn Library at the duck pond in Long Island NY and I would go shelf by shelf. I loved Stuart Little and The Borrowers! Something about tiny people!

Were there any books that made a big impression on you in your life?

Books that have made the biggest impression on me, which I discovered in college, were all by Nabokov!! Pale Fire, Lolita, Invitation of a Beheading! My first realization of language itself as art. Earlier, in high school we read Sartre, Camus, and then in 1958 discovered Lawrence Ferlinghetti's Coney Island of the Mind.

Why Read?

An impossible question! I can't imagine a life without reading.

Rendering prepared by John Lum (BCLT Architect) of his vision for the downtown lot.

On Saturday, March 23 we held a BCLT Community Housing Meeting at the Bolinas Community Center. The main purpose of this meeting was to update the community on our latest new acquisitions; Mesa Road (Tacherra parcel) and the downtown lot across from the Bolinas market. In case you were not able to attend, here's a brief recap.

Arianne Dar (BCLT Executive Director) explained that both the Mesa Road parcel and the downtown lot was acquired through an anonymous donor with a few conditions. The BCLT will be responsible for the pre-development costs within an 18 month time frame, but the donor will pay for all construction costs. The donor also stipulated that eight units of rental housing will be provided at both projects.

Mesa Road

The Mesa Road parcel is 20 acres with one water meter and is identified for a six bedroom septic. The property is currently used for grazing and pasture and approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{3}{4}$ of the lot is marshy and WILL NOT be suitable for building. The obstacles we face on this particular project include, how to get enough water for 8 units, the zoning, wetland issues and habitat protection as well as the fact that it is currently in the Williamson Act.

Downtown lot

The downtown lot is on 2.5 acres with steep hillside on roughly $\frac{3}{4}$ of the lot. This lot consists of two different zonings; multi-family housing and commercial space is permitted. The property also has one water meter and one sewer hook-up. Challenges we face with this property include making sure we can procure enough water for 8 units, planning adequate parking for tenants, Smileys and Coast Café staff and gathering community agreement in an area with lots of neighbors and high visibility. Our Architect, John Lum spoke to the group about his design for the downtown lot and explained that he plans to maintain the character and spirit of Bolinas. He showed a rough rendering of his vision for the front of the building, which has similar architectural elements to Smileys and the Museum building and is meant for cohesiveness with the downtown setting.

Project Committees

The BCLT believes this opportunity is too big and important to be carried out by the BCLT alone and for this reason we will be looking for broad community representation on our project committees. Committees will consist of three to five community members, two board members, Arianne Dar & John Lum. These groups will work on topics like septic / sewer, water, environmental constraints, zoning and design. We ask that committee members be willing to make a two-year commitment and be able to attend monthly meetings. If serving on a committee is of interest to you, please contact us at info@bolinaslandtrust.org or (415) 868-8880.

Community input

The meeting then opened up to community comments, in particular we asked to hear input in three main categories for both projects; excitement, concerns and ideas. The main comments are included below (but there were others that have been noted and will be taken into consideration):

Mesa Road (Tacherra parcel):

Excitement

- Mixed use Agriculture
- General excitement for more housing opportunities

Concern

- Wetlands/habitat
- How project fits with water moratorium
- Management of new property (With the scope of the new projects coupled with ongoing property management, there is concern about the BCLT taking on too much with current staffing. Specifically, the condition of the Gibson House was mentioned. It was explained that grants for additional staffing have been applied for and the Gibson House is scheduled for a complete exterior paint job & other upgrades this Spring).
- Financial constraints limiting beauty
- How affordable it will be and who benefits

Ideas

- Fog catchment for water
- Microgrid/solar
- Community garden
- Creating a path to the school
- Multi-agency project
- Cobb housing for seniors
- Healing center/cannabis farm
- Well for water use

Downtown Lot:

Excitement

- Collaboration with downtown businesses
- Conceptual drawing and broken smile visual (meaning that the current empty lot downtown amongst the other buildings creates a broken smile effect like a missing tooth).
- Communal Parking /space

Concern

- Water
- Impact and scale
- Management
- Quality of construction
- Commercial space – size and viability
- Protection of the Cypress
- Sound proofing

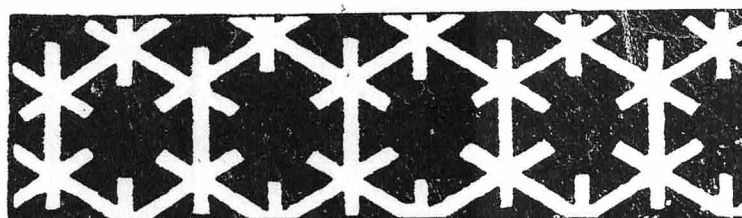

Ideas

- Interior courtyard
- Buying additional water meters
- Multi-agency projects
- Gallery space

We were energized by the audience’s thoughtful responses and overall excitement and look forward to forming our working committees. If you were not able to attend and wish to give us your ideas, excitement or concerns please contact us. We are also happy to answer any questions associated with these projects.

Yours truly,

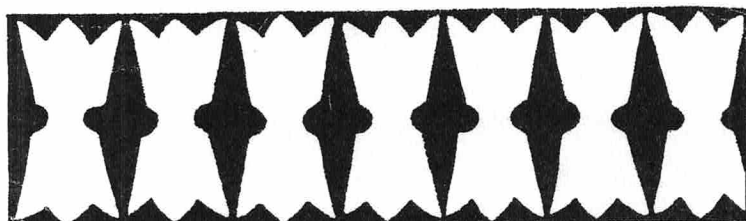

The BCLT Team
