Bolinas Community Land Trust Update:
 Summer 2013

Dear Friends,

I hope to see you at the event in Pt Reyes on July 25th, and a special thank you to CLAM for organizing the event and inviting the BCLT to be co-sponsors.

Together with CLAM, the BCLT has been working with the County of Marin for years on the development code, the Local Coastal Plan and the Housing Element, requesting consistency in language and removals to barriers to affordable housing. On July 9, the Planning Commission passed the draft Housing Element, despite large and highly organized groups opposed to affordable housing. The next step in when the Draft Housing Element is presented to the Board of Supervisors on August 20, 2013 at the Civic Center (time to be announced).

I encourage all affordable housing advocates to attend, and share your stories about how important affordable housing is and how it IMPROVES through economic and social viability our lives and and our communities.

To learn more about the Draft Housing Element, please visit the County's website:
<http://www.marincounty.org/depts/he>

To read the Draft Housing Element as a pdf:
http://www.marincounty.org/depts/he/~media/Files/Departments/CD/HE/12012_Draft_Marin_County_Housing_Element.pdf

I also want to thank everyone who attended our Family Faire on Memorial Day weekend in the Park (thank you to the Mesa Park Board for allowing us to hold the event). Through a generous grant from the West Marin Fund, the BCLT Interns raised over $2,000! Thank you everyone who came down and supported the BCLT!

Best, Lesa

THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE
 PRESENTED BY THE WEST MARIN PLAYERS

West Marin Players presents for it's third production, Gilbert & Sullivan's swashbuckling comedy The Pirates of Penzance. Wacky, irreverent, and as entertaining today as it was when it first opened in 1879. The Pirates Of Penzance is the story of an orphan boy who was mistakenly apprenticed to a pirate instead of a pilot. A hilarious farce featuring sentimental pirates, bumbling policemen, dewy-eyed daughters, and an eccentric Major General, and peppered with unforgettable melodies and tongue-twisting songs, Pirates is one of the most popular operettas ever written.

Report from the Peoples Store

July 12 between holidays

Foggy in the morning, clears in afternoon, offshore winds

Pam is off to New York to Gramma's house

Where have all the early girls gone?

Coincidentally we can't get the quintessential Early Girl tomato any more after Big -Bad- Monsanto patented the variety and is no longer servicing the organic market. Full Belly is growing a replacement variety called "New Girls." We have them now in the store. Come and meet (eat) the New Girls in Town

"Chai tea and T'ai Chi. That's me" from Lisa Simpson, (you know Bart Simpson's older sister) They live in Springfield

Ohooo what big teeth you have Grandma! StuArt photoshopped in his teeth on the Wednesday Hearsay cover

Both truck drivers for our Falcon goods delivery have quit. Craig used to deliver propane up in Sonoma and once he saw a Zonkie on a farm up there. It was the color of a donkey and had faint leg stripes of a zebra.

Keith- With - no- Teeth was the other driver. He arrived late in the afternoon because he stopped along the lagoon for a nap on his way into town. He recently added a black cowboy hat to his outfit. "Women like hats, it's like a chic magnet, soon as I got the hat ...Boom!"

Today parading along our porch we have a Bedlington Terrier, a Bouvier, a Dutch Shepard and Jasper a King Charles Cavalier Spaniel. Remember back we had a dog show? Hawk would know.

We gave Charlie a book for his birthday, He likes it. It's called "The Golden Shore" by David Advary & it's about the California coast. The author talks about swimming in fifty-foot tall kelp forests like redwood groves but under the sea.

Correction

In Wednesday's story about the Fourth of July parade a couple of sentences got omitted. I was writing about the people in the Hearsay News Fife & Drum Corps and Ruth Knies didn't get mentioned. Here's the missing paragraph:

Ruth was waving a tie dye American flag on a long bamboo pole. The flag was made by Eat Dog up at Gillyflower Nursery. I was happy to have a tie dye American flag in my unit. I had elected not to bring my tie dye flag, which is a real American flag that my friend tie dyed in swirling colors. In years past some people had been offended by what they saw as the desecration of the flag. Eat Dog on the other hand created his own version of the flag using old bed sheets.

Also in the cover photograph I admit that I did photoshop in my lower teeth. I was planning to have a new dental bridge installed by the Fourth, but my new grill was delayed, and it was quick and easy to fill the gap in Photoshop.

While walking my dog Tuesday I had a scary confrontation with a man who sits in his grey truck on Alder every after noon. Along with jumping out of his truck and trying to physically intimidate me he followed (in his truck) my dog and I on the remainder of our walk. Keeping silent about people trying to scare or threaten you makes it permissible for them to continue. I have never felt unsafe in our community and feel it is important to share this.

Angel

READING TO JOHN

On Tues. 7/16 at 10 am on KWMR (89.9) I'll read Isak Dinesen's "The Sailor-Boy's Tale." Young Simon saves a tangled falcon from the mast of a ship. On shore leave he has some wild encounters that might turn deadly. But magic prevails and he lives to tell the tale. I'll also share a folk tale about another Simon and finish up with reviews.
