DEPRESSING NIGHT AT THE PUB

Drawing by
Terry Bell

Industrial shortages and delays on getting things like hot pipe (we get it 8 months after we order it) as well as Federal Bureaucratic requirements (inspiring Judith Weston to swear that she would "never deal again with anything that smacks of Federal financing"), labor union rules, bonding regulations etc, have forced the BCPUD to extend the deadline for building our new sewer from 180 days to 450 days. The new target date for completion of the sewer is September, 1975, which means that it will cost more.

It also looks like local people are going to have a hard time getting jobs on the sewer project. It appears that contractors prefer to hire their (bonded & unionized) friends - not ours. 20% local hire means only a handful of local workers.

In other (earlier) business, the board voted not to accept the deed to the downtown park because, as Lydia Smith so eloquently put it, "we should get something back from the County for our tax money." Or, as Judith Weston said, "we're already up to our necks in the sewer."

The board also: heard José Silva's report on downtown's low water pressure and decided to move with dispatch to connect the Overlook-Terrace line to increase pressure in fire hydrants; agreed to hire Don Pepper to clean out the dams; look into alternatives to Pine Gulch Creek as a late-season water supply; approved Michael Gaspers' request for permission to build a well near his property for watering his garden. agreed to request a job description from Kirker Chapman for Project Manager for the sewer; and discussed a letter from the county concerning unemployment for Richard Ste. Gaudin, summed up by one observer, ergo:

There was a young man in Bolinas who disliked Directors who screen us. He said, "unemployment has much more enjoyment than misunderstandings between us."
