Dance Palace Office Closed For New Year's Day
01/01/2019 - 8:00am to 3:00pm

The Dance Palace office will be closed on January 1, 2019 for the New Year's Day.

Artist Michael O'Shea in the Dance Palace Lobby

01/02/2019 - 8:30am to 01/31/2019 - 3:00pm

Artist Michael O'Shea will be displaying his work in the Dance Palace Lobby through the month of January. There will be an artist's reception on Sunday, January 20th at 4 PM. The Dance Palace Lobby is open to the public Monday - Friday from 8:30 AM - 3 PM.

Artist's Statement:

Art = Bricolage

"..in our own time the 'bricoleur' is still someone who works with his hands and uses devious means compared to those of a craftsman.... The 'bricoleur' is adept at performing a large number of diverse tasks; but, unlike the engineer, he does not subordinate each of them to the availability of raw materials and tools conceived and procured for the purpose of the project." Claude Lévi-Strauss

I feel this best explains my art. My art work becomes handyman stuff, born of restlessness, of curiosity, pushing old techniques. My tinkering concerns making something out of what is at hand, while embodying the essence of the object. My subject matters present themselves to me as worthy of attention visually, nostalgically, and conceptually.

Before we move to Next Year

I want to extend a Heart felt thanks To all who came to the Winter Lunch, all who donated, all who appreciated. A special Thank You goes to the Kitchen Crew: Colin Frye, Bruce Dark, Liz Brown, Elnora Mae Philips. You cannot imagine what a gift it is when folks that know how to cook show up to help. It flowed so nicely. Thanks also to Community Center, Kate and Randy for allowing folks a place to go, and eat when everything else is closed. God Bless to all, and a Happy New Year. 🍷🍷🍷

A New Year's? poem

Layed out like a bowling pin knocked round like the 8 ball
Gently rocking in the hammock
dreaming of yestermorrows
and forever being
Dancing in the warm surf
by moonlight
and running the journey
from to from
and something moves beginningly...

WHAT HAPPENED

12-31-18 Monday Morning Recap
 Week-in-Review from Jennie Pfeiffer-Riley

It's New Year's Eve, a time to reflect back on the past, to be in the present moment, and to plan forward for the future. In looking back, Saturday's gathering of friends and family assembled to celebrate the life of Phil Buchanan filled the great Commonweal hall, as his brother-in-law, Murray Bruce, gave us a look at Phil's life from childhood through the middle and more recent years, and into the difficult last months of Phil's struggle with cancer. Bobby and Breanna Buchanan gave beautiful remembrances of their father, a testimony to the easy and loving way he had with parenting, as he had with most everything he pursued -- exhibited in the many community tasks he took on in his half a century of life here in Bolinas. As well as a fine father, Phil was a philosopher, photographer, writer, and long time marriage partner of Judy Bohlman Buchanan. He spent many of his early years as a KSAN radio disc jockey, then worked as General Manager for the Bolinas Community Public Utility District for a decade or two, was Bolinas Fire District Board President, a participating member of the town and school community, a part of the accounting staff at Commonweal, and was a great good friend to many. He was not a self-promoter, but had a ready sense of humor, along with an intelligent competence, so was able to take on the difficult tasks that came his way in the many years of community service. He kept his calm demeanor and balanced manner when confronted with the tricky controversies our townsfolk are not shy to engage in with passionate vigor. We are sending love and condolences for this loss to Phil's large extended family. It is a difficult departure for them and for our Community.

Another sad departure was the loss this weekend of Elly Buckley, a long time community member, mother of Christina, and good friend to many in our town. We are sending love to her family at this difficult time.

Thoughts of loss and transition were on my mind yesterday as I stood with our group of 6, ready to take our turn to move the large striking log toward the 2,100 pound, 16th-century Japanese temple bell at the Asian Museum in San Francisco. We were ringing out the disappointments of the past year, bringing in hopes for a kinder, more peaceful fresh start, because kindness counts, especially for our children. The ceremonial chanting ended with the following: (translation)
"We vow to confer our merit on all beings equally May one and all attain awakened mind, be born in the land of bliss."

My promise, in that sacred moment, was to commit to help make a change for the better in 2019. In that regard, I will be working with the Border Angels, (Borderangels.com) to take supplies to the displaced families who are asylum seekers, gathering at our southern border. My hope is to show that our nation of immigrants can show compassion to those seeking a better life. I am collecting toiletries, underwear, and such things to be delivered to the border. I will have a box available at the New Year's Eve celebration at the THREE GREAT THINGS ABOUT THIS PLACE...

- People like Dinah Stroe, my friend from Inverness, who is collecting hygiene product donations for people at the border. (Please see the notice in Jennie Pfeiffer's column, if you'd like to help out.)
- Holiday visitors from other climes, specifically Cousin Sam and Jamie, from New Orleans.
- We have a whole new year to mess around with! Can we do better this time around?

Bolinas Community Center for any items people might want to contribute, items such as the sample shampoos from hotels, etc. I will leave it by the bathrooms outside the BCC office. Amelia will be placing a donation can at the door if that is something you can do. Thanks for anything you might be able to contribute. Looking forward, we will P.O.R in 2019 jp

Help at the Border for Displaced Asylum Seeker Families

Hoping to get supplies to the displaced families, asylum seekers, at our border with a group out of San Diego called Border Angels (borderangels.org). They are specifically asking for small containers of toiletries, like the ones from hotels, to create hygiene kits. Needed items are shampoo, lotion, toothbrushes, toothpaste and razors. New underwear for men, women and children is also requested. Items can be left at the drop box at the Bolinas Community Center New Year's Eve party, in the foyer by the bathrooms, funds can be left at the door in a donation can or call 868-0144 to arrange pickup of items. Thanks so much, Jenniepeiffer.
