

Sunbathers on the beach Saturday were the target of about 20 eggs that were thrown from the cliff or terrace. Many people were hit and one small child was hit on the head. Elaine was cut by eggshells. There were at least 3 (probably more) kids, seen on the cliff, ages 10-12, mental, to zero. Egg throwing is a sick sport and can seriously hurt someone. If you know who the kids were, tell Kitter BEATS, SNE, and others, would like to talk to them.

CURE FOUND FOR POISON OAK!
Someone in the bar said that Mark Maser got rid of a bad case by rubbing brandy on it for a week.

EVERYONE IS A REPORTER

If you know something you think other people would like to know and can't bear repeating it so many times as there are people, tell it to THE HEARSAY NEWS. We print everything that won't get us into trouble, and some things that will. Poetry is as welcome as news. Bird sitings and nature information is always fascinating to me. Drawings and photographs are solicited, but it would help if they were the right size (half-tones print better screened). Try to use as few words as possible, since paper costs a lot of money.

§... THE HEARSAY NEWS is about breaking even on expenses, so there's no way anybody (including myself) can get paid now. But, if we do start to show a profit, I thought the contributors might split it. It might be enough to buy a beer.

BCPUD

The only thing I remember about Winesap Night at the Pub is that Lewis MacAdams described it as "a meeting made of jello" and "a conflict between emptiness and darkness."

My notes tell me that Judith Weston, Bill Wiman and Lewis MacAdams were there, conducting a long and confused business meeting. Greg Newlett gave a soft-spoken discourse on the four kids of new toilets Paradise Valley is going to install with the County's blessing, saying that modern-day manufacturers of modern-day toilets can make the Regional Water Control Board look like Neanderthals.

Then, for more than an hour, the board struggled with the meaning of the words "I quit" and decided, in the end, to reverse a reversal of an earlier decision about Bobby Heffelfinger's unemployment insurance, moving "that the board agreed that the employee quit with cause and should not be denied unemployment." In other business the board agreed to look at (and fix) a leak on Opal Road; work out an agreement for an easement for a pedestrian path along Glen-Bolinas road; approved of a plan by Warren and Marion Weber to install a chris toilet on their property by the school; discussed hiring a Project Manager for the new sewer project; and decided to wait for a letter from the County before deciding to do anything about the downtown park.

IT WAS A PLEASURE ONCE AGAIN TO SEE ACTORS "STAMP AND FRET OVER A STAGE" AS THE PALACE PLAYERS OF PT. REYES PRESENTED THE PAINE, A PLAY WITH MUSIC BY PAUL FOSTER. A STANDING-ROOM-ONLY CROWD OF TOWNFOLK FILLED THE COMMUNITY CENTER SATURDAY NIGHT, AND WERE DRAMATICALLY REMINDED OF THE HORRORS, CRUISING, DEATHS, REASONS, DRUNKENNESS, LACKEY, AND SCHIZOPHRENIA THAT SURROUNDED AND CONFUSED THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

Bollnas is Old

Bollnas
 You are ancient too
 Not that petty discovery
 A 400 year remainder
 Of Francis Drake's fort
 Nor those faded photographs
 Of Waterhouse, Brioni and Gibson
 Nor that sham shake-up in 1906,
 Think 100 earthslides earlier
 When the lagoon was the playground of whales
 and the redwoods strode down to the beach
 And the Indians went agathering your herbs -
 That's when you were ancient and fresh!

George Baily told me: "I don't know the whole story, but... was at Carolyn Brown's house April 20th at 10 o'clock, this cube appeared in mid-air above the dining room table and wouldn't do anything right. Carolyn said to the cube, "If you don't like it here, why don't you go back from where you came." Those who also saw the cube included Harriet Kossman, Richard and Carmen Goldones, and Tim and Joan Tabernik. George also told me he is selling rat milk.

* The Bolinas Baseball team Sunday split a double-header with Stinson Beach. Marvin Weaver, * hit five out of seven, and by his own account slid into home 3 times. A great improvement over last week, Marvin *.

ECHOS, the movie by George Greenough, was SPECTACULAR, STUPENDOUS, TERRIFIC, INCREDIBLE, etc. The Community Center was packed Thursday night. Most people watched it twice. I did.

* THE CALIFORNIA Coastal Commission may file a suit to guarantee access to the beach (up to the sand dunes) near Sea Drift. IF you were on the beach near Seadrift before 1971 and are willing to say so, the coastal commission needs your name. Please call Francis Stewart (1646) or Peter warshall (0272). Or, sign sheet at the store or Scowley's.

DANDELION WINE

Dump four quarts of water and four quarts of dandelion blossoms into a large covered crock. Let the mixture stand nine days. Then squeeze and remove the flowers, add three pounds of honey, three cut-up lemons and one cake of yeast. Let it stand for another week and a half. Strain the mixture into a jug and leave it uncorked until the brew stops working. Cork it up, and drink the wine whenever you like. Or, let it ferment for about six months.

* Betty and Gregory Hewlett are visiting for a week. Sue reports that they've been freezing every night and can't sleep because of the geese, but that otherwise they're perfect grandparents.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT. Little Benjie was hit by a car on Wharf Road by the Marine Biology lab. Luckily, he wasn't hurt. People living on that side of Wharf Road, are complaining about weekend traffic. Cars drive down there and can't get turned around, etc. Perhaps a Dead End sign would work.

* FOUND - on the beach - Easter week - Off-white Mexican-style ladies blouse with green & orange embroidery. See Elaine - at the beach - She will be wearing...

* Paul Kayfetz reports that the subject of a bus line to Palamarid didn't come up at Thursday Night's meeting of the GENRA Transportation Study Board of control. Paul had copies made of all the letters he received and circulated them to the other members of the board.

* Datsun camper for sale. Fits Toyota etc. Door in back. Side slide windows $99. Call 868-0419.

* Monday night Life-Drawing resumes tonight at Kelly's. Overlook & Elm. 7:30.

* The disposition of the Bolinas Park has been brought to the attention of the Marin County Grand Jury. The park gets a great deal of use by the visitors and tourists. There are no other tennis courts, picnic tables, nor comfort stations in the area; therefore it seems only fair that the County maintain the park as it has done in the past.

The supervisors will send the report, with financial breakdowns, to the B.C.P.U.O. for their comments. What do you think?
