How Do I Love Thee?(Sonnet 43)

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways.
 I love thee to the depth and breadth and height
 My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight
 For the ends of being and ideal grace.
 I love thee to the level of every day's
 Most quiet need, by sun and candle-light.
 I love thee freely, as men strive for right.
 I love thee purely, as they turn from praise.
 I love thee with the passion put to use
 In my old griefs, and with my childhood's faith.
 I love thee with a love I seemed to lose
 With my lost saints. I love thee with the breath,
 Smiles, tears, of all my life; and, if God choose,
 I shall but love thee better after death.

-Elizabeth Barrett Browning (1806-1861)

Love does not consist in gazing at each other but in looking together in the same direction.

-Antoine De Saint-Exupery

In the twilight of our lives, we will be judged on how we have loved.

-St. John Of The Cross

And, in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make.

-John Lennon and Paul McCartney

Love is life. All, everything that I understand,
 I understand only because I love. Everything is, everything exists, only because I love.
 Everything is united by it alone. Love is God,
 and to die means that I, a particle of love,
 shall return to the general and eternal source.

-Leo Tolstoy

Thousands of candles can be lit from a single candle, and the life of the candle
 will not be shortened.
 Happiness never decreases by being shared.

-Buddha

(The human spirit) has come to believe that compassion, in which all ethics must take root, can only attain its full breadth and depth
 if it embraces all living creatures and does not limit itself to mankind.

-Albert Schweitzer

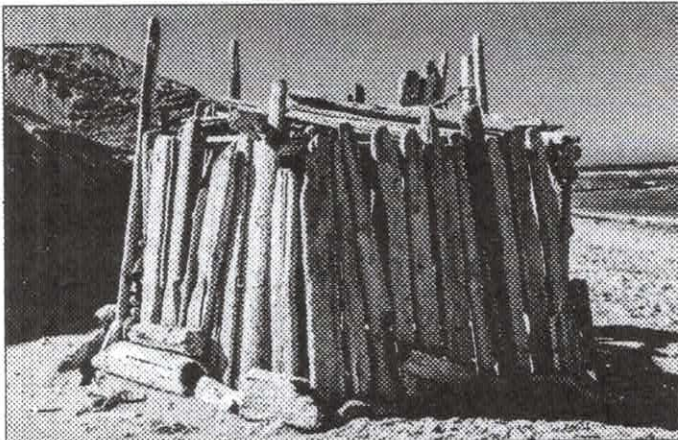

"You shall love your crooked neighbor
With your crooked heart."

-W. H. Auden

Forgiveness is the final form of love.

-Reinhold Niebuhr

UPDATE ON THE FREEBOX FOLLIES

"We don't actually have to consciously make something happen, sometimes we simply have to want it and, if we're not thinking about it, our subconscious does it for us." from Anderson, Justin Lee. Carpet Diem: or How to Save the World by Accident.

Just wanted to share my last thoughts on the Freebox Follies. One of the reasons it happens as it does is that I make it my full time job. While I sew, each outfit puts itself together and tells me what it wants to be, and that keeps me focused on possibility. Each magic appearance of a willing person or a serendipitous material arriving at the perfect moment or calling my attention is a delight. Someone willing to come on stage for the first time in the community is a delight.

The Freebox Follies is the Freebox personified on a stage. I am holding a container for whatever medicine others have in themselves, it is a big job, when it is not terrifying and I do not think it is way over my head to do what I am doing I am delighted.

The night of the show I am still wondering if we can pull all this folly/experimental theatre off, sometimes I become worried it is getting too far into folly (or has wandered into that further realm which is chaos). At those moments I have been back stage and listened to the sound of our community receiving all that miscellaneous medicine, all that incredible naked Freeboxing, And what I hear is that same delight that has been visiting me as I diligently dedicated myself the the totally unreasonable idea of doing a show without being attached to who and how it benefits. I hear our community receiving the medicine of our own generosity. And all over again I am delighted. It is not "my show" but I wanted to express how I hold it possible and why I am willing to do it. It is because it is full of miracles and there is only one community I could even imagine it to be possible in.

PRACTICAL NOTE FOR THOSE WISHING TO MODEL: It is a different show this year. We won't have space or time to do your makeup, or bring you shoes. If you want to model please contact me and chose and outfit then you can get ready and pick your shoes at home, or be at the BCC at 6 on Thursday 2/21 and choose from what outfits are left. (They are all awesome but some are even more awesome than others).

Book Shelving Party at the Bookstore on Sunday
 A group of Bookstore supporters (Bibliophiles) showed up on Sunday to shelve books. Almost a dozen Bibliophiles helped shelve books from the crowded backroom of the Bookstore. Every one of the books from the backroom were neatly organized and displayed. The Bookstore is now burgeoning with new titles (new to you) and is well worth a visit. Support your local bookstore and while you're visiting stop by the front room and Plunk it!
