40 Years of Hearsay

We finally got to celebrate 40 years of the Hearsay News with an exhibit in the History Room of the Museum. I say finally because we've been talking about a show at the Museum since the 25th Anniversary of the Hearsay.

The exhibit consists of bound volumes of every year of the Hearsay since 1974. A wide shelf gives ample room to peruse each volume. If you've ever wanted to do research about recent Bolinas history now's your chance.

Mounted on the wall above the shelf is a life-size photo banner of the famous Wall of Remembrance at the Hearsay Office. The wall is a collage of photos and foolscrap left over from 40 years pasteup.

On Saturday afternoon editors and contributors alike gathered in the museum's courtyard to celebrate the opening of the show. I knew it was a good time to sing "Hearsay Blues" a song I wrote 30 years ago. Kathleen provided back-up vocals and I strummed arpeggios on the guitar.

"Hearsay Blues" has a couple of lyric passages that could only appear in a song about the Bolinas Hearsay News. For instance, the following:

*Viewpoints are sometimes skewed
in the Hearsay News.
But the opinions expressed therein
are not those of the editors of the Hearsay News.*

It still tickles me to have included such a legal disclaimer in the song. The other lyric I like is the following:

*If a letter is rude
in the Hearsay News,
Don't file suit, send a refute:
Box three twenty seven,
nine four nine two four.
Box three twenty seven,
nine four nine two four.*

I get a kick out of singing the Hearsay's mailing address including zip code. What an opportunity to have fun and make music.

Thank you Hearsay News.

David Franklin

I've been a big fan of Neshama Franklin's storytelling since she did a piece on shoes from the Freebox and Imelda Marcos. But I was overwhelmed by her remembrance of her son David at the memorial for him on Saturday.

I knew David, but not well. He was another colorful Bolinas character who refused to compromise with default reality.

Neshama's story of David's life helped me understand and appreciate his unique personality. I was especially moved by Neshama's remembrances of walks she took with David after he was hospitalized

"I got to experience pure David," she explained. "... without the interference of his self medication."

I loved the way she euphemistically referred to his "self medication"

Neshama helped me understand David without judgment. I saw how he was doing the best he could and my heart opened as I felt the beautiful love of a mother for her child.

We all have mothers and we're all doing the best we can.

Thank you, Neshama, and David

Pondo

My favorite memories of Ponderosa Pine revolved around Labor Day. For many years I opened the festivities by inviting the Reverend Ponderosa Pine to give the invocation.

Pine would begin by chanting into the microphone. He kept at it for quite a while and I would notice that all the tourists and straight people in the crowd would start to fidget as his chanting droned on.

Then Pine would begin to howl into the microphone. All the dogs downtown would gather in front of Pine and howl along.

The tourists and straights would really begin to get nervous and look for escape routes.

Then as suddenly as he began Pine would stop howling. An amazing silence and calm would settle over downtown. The tourists and straights would look around with new appreciation as if to say, "We participated in the real, wild side of Bolinas and lived to tell about it!"

Thank you, Ponderosa

MEMORIAL BENCH FUNDRAISING REACHES GOAL!

Thanks to our generous community, the Briones Lions Club has been able to raise the funds needed for the John Nassrah Memorial Bench in the new Downtown Park.

The date for installation has now moved to January 2015 and we hope to have a dedication ceremony then as well. Details will follow in the new year.

A huge THANK YOU! to all who contributed. Your generosity is greatly appreciated.

Bo, Bears, Barmin'

For: Dakar and Measure G

The Village Elliott: 11/14 (Elliot Kolker)

Measure G: "Vote for Bolinas to be a socially acknowledged nature-loving town because to like to drink the water out of the lakes to like to eat the blueberries to like the bears is not hatred to hotels and motor boats. Dakar. Temporary and way to save life, skunks and foxes (airplanes to go over the ocean) and to make it beautiful." (1)

I

Zealots mesmerize fools,
 teemin' masses with rules
 droned pendantic'ly, rote-taught school-marmin'.
 Home grown, Bo's Measure G
 advised more leisurely pace that advocates anti-rearmin'.
 Seems to me, Karmic Grace
 placed us in special place;
 Stewards to keep Bo bucolic, charmin',
 with lagoon, Pacific
 on three sides, terrific
 scene's influence on scene quite disarmin'.
 But Bo's fourth edge tempts Fate;
 Rim of Pacific Plate.
 'cross the rift from that teemin' mass swarmin'.

II

Bo Bo drifting away
 from Mainland, U.S.A.
 towards Alaska forebodes future harmin'.
 Suddenly set adrift
 with rift's great seismic shift,
 Biblical cataclysm's alarming.
 But like Bo, Temp'rate Zone

Hyperborean blown,
 in new latitude, old Bo-grown farmin'.
 There we'll still feed our shares
 of blueberries to bears,
 drink clear water from lakes lackin' barmin',
 with Measure G, frolic
 on tundra bucolic,
 chillin' out, baskin' in Global Warmin'!

1) In the August, 2003 California Primary Election, the following initiative, Measure G, appeared on the ballot in Bolinas as a non-binding policy advisory for the town's community Public Utilities District (BPUD). The measure, submitted by Dakar, aka Jane Blethens, a woman who wears burlap and paints her face with chocolate, advises the Bolinas Community Public Utility District to adopt a policy defining the town according to Measure G.

It passed with over seventy-five percent of the vote, primarily because they say there is nothing objectional about it. (I proudly voted for it. Sadly, it may be the best vote I ever cast for a winner). The quirky coastal hamlet of Bolinas is now officially a nature-loving town that also likes blueberries and bears and even skunks.

That, at least, is as good an interpretation as anyone has come up with for Measure G, a stream-of-consciousness initiative.

(From SF Gate: 10/20/03, Peter Fimrite.)

2) Barmin'(v) form of Barm (n): The yeasty foam that forms as the head of fermented beverages.

KID'S MUSICAL THEATER PRESENTS:
 "T'WAS THE WEEK AFTER CHRISTMAS"

A hilarious and heartwarming story about what happens when the North Pole loses the Christmas Spirit. It's been years since the Elves and Reindeer have gotten along. The Reindeer egos are high and Elves' productivity is low. Will a week of vacation help remind the Elves and Reindeer what Christmas is all about?

COMMUNITY THANKSGIVING DINNER

Join the annual celebration of Thanksgiving in West Marin. Sponsored by the West Marin Community Resource Center in cooperation with the Dance Palace, this wonderful community celebration is open to all. Over 100 volunteers help with cooking, serving, and decorating. This is a great way to get involved in our community and to celebrate what you are thankful for this year. Call the Resource Center at 415-663-8361 to volunteer.

Mad Marmalade Duo

Friday, November 22nd, 2014 8pm-10:30pm
Old Western Saloon, Point Reyes Station
21+ Admission = $3-$10 (sliding scale)

Mad Marmalade is "Sister Chablis", aka Sharron Drake - violin & vocals (Pink Sabbath, El Radio Fantastique) and "Lady Champs" aka Adrienne Pfeiffer - guitar & vocals (Pink Sabbath, Big B and the SnakeOil Saviors) performing originals and mildly irreverent, selectively-chosen covers.

This dynamic, irreverent pair met back in the aughts while traversing the boards of professional thea-tuh. A short time later, realizing their geographical closeness, fondness for a good Becherovka and penchant for performance in song, they started a duo that eventually became the aggressive folk quartet Pink Sabbath. The two have now reunited to conceptualize and torpedo the most beautiful vintage ballads, sawdust floor shuffles and swing-tastic originals that bring tears to the most seasoned concert goer and shut-in alike. (c)

Their borne-from-the-heavens harmonies along with their trusty guitar and violin, waiver and whine with spicy hints of country, celtic and good old groovy rock 'n' roll. These saucy tunes evoke a homemade and organically sweet jam in a Mason jar sitting on a country kitchen's shelf - right next a welcoming bowl of coconut ambrosia and the ever-ready Lysol®.
