Free Food Fridays

Last Friday students from USF came to Bolinas to glean produce, cook food and serve it up as an expression of Community Service. The students' area of study, titled "Community Garden Outreach" fulfills a USF requirement for service to the world.

Bolinas' own Melinda Stone is the professor. She designed the course to give students hands-on experience in building community through food: growing it, gleaning it, fixing it and feeding it.

It is Bolinas' good fortune that Melinda chose to bring her students here. When one USF student was asked about the class she replied, "We're a group of students who came from USF to hopefully connect with the community through learning how to use the given resources."

On Friday morning the USF students cooked their gleanings in the Community Center kitchen. Serving tables were set up in the park and at 1pm the students served their gift to the town. It was wonderful to receive a plate of organic greens, tamales, beans and veggies. The creamy cilantro sauce was divine.

Sitting on the cob bench surrounding the cob oven with a full plate of community spirit and the sun warming my back. Felt like heaven, filled with gratitude for the USF students and for my town.

Zim, sitting next to me on the cob bench, remarked, "This reminds me of the Peace Café." Indeed, it was a beautiful reappearance of the Peace Café, an evening of free food put on in the 80's by Turning Tide, our local anti-nuclear group.

The Peace Café song came back to me and I sang it quietly:

*We all got fed today
 at the Peace Café.
 The world could be this way
 same as the Peace Café.
 We satisfied our body and mind
 so we can be both strong and kind.
 We stopped the war in our small way
 at the Peace Café.*

The USF students are coming back on September 20 and they will be firing up the cob oven for Free Food Fridays. Come down and share food & community!

LOST LLAMA

What a great silent auction on Labor Day. One of the favorite items was a stuffed llama made from real llama fur, everyone loved it. Well someone loved it so much they took it home without paying for it. If you know where our lost llama is will you please bring it back – no questions asked. We would love to see it go to the bidder who also loved the llama and won the bid.

Thank you,
 Rand – BCC Development Director

Announcing the Bolinas SHOWING of the fine cut of the nearly-completed documentary film

The Boys Who Said NO!

Draft Resistance and the Vietnam War

The Boys Who Said NO! is the little-known story of a small group of courageous citizens who rose up and took decisive action when they saw their government doing terrible wrong.

Draft resisters refused military service to bring attention to their cause and let others know they too could resist. Eventually millions of Americans protested in the streets, and the war was ended.

For the first time in American history, a citizen uprising forced the government to end a war.

Don Deane needs OUR help!

Don was a part of the Bolinas community and West Marin for many decades before retiring from Smileys and buying a campground in the Sierra foothills. In Bolinas, Don published the Coastal Post newspaper, owned and operated Smiley's Saloon, and was the foster and adoptive parent to more than 100 girls and boys in the community over the course of three decades. He was elected to public office and volunteered on many committees. Don has made a difference in literally hundreds of lives, all for the better.

Your donations to the Special Needs Trust for Don Deane will help Don in finding a stable place to live and to facilitate expenses in the future that Medicare may not cover.

You can donate to the GoFundMe by searching for "Don Deane needs OUR help" at www.gofundme.com.

BENEFIT FOR DON DEANE

This is a painting bought by Don Deane a few years back – a Bolinas street scene (the painting hung in Smiley’s for many years)

Don Deane helped many people in this town. Now he needs your help.

He’s confronting some serious medical issues.

I would like to offer him a painting of my work to be donated to raise money to help him in his time of need.

A few paintings will be hung at the Bolinas Gallery for that purpose, weekends 1-6pm, ‘til the end of September.

Today’s Hearsay brought to you by:
StuArt Chapman, editor
Michael Rafferty, ads
Nicole Lavelle press

Terry Guitar (aka the Roving Reporter) is back in Hawaii, but she left me some drawings for the Hearsay — like this drawing from the time that the BCLT’s affordable housing committee had a convocation in the park. Terry’s drawing style is almost Zen-like in its brevity and her collected quotes and quips make her drawings of historical import. Thank you, Roving Reporter! Aloha!

The Board could revisit the plan, and take out some grass. The oven needs some work too. John presented his proposal for $2,500. Would also like to do a fundraiser for the downtown park and create a fund going forward. Amber discussed the payment process for invoice submission and payment. Funds received for the downtown park can be earmarked for downtown park. The Board inquired about ongoing maintenance, making sure we aren't overlapping. The Board requested a proposal for a year. Also discussed coordinating the fundraising efforts. Toby motions to allow John Glavis & crew to start the work on the park per his proposal, Amber seconds, all in favor (3-0).
